Coach, Facilitator, Presenter and Writer at Lisa G Communication
Associate Program Director and Facilitator at Mt Eliza Executive Education

Lisa Gorman is a facilitator and coach working with owners and senior management teams of SMEs in regional NSW and Western Sydney, and with leaders in large organisations in Australian capital cities and overseas. She specialises in partnering with organisations to ensure their people, productivity and profit continue to grow and drive a positive, sustainable future.

She is a dynamic facilitator of programs that impact both personal and professional life. Her key interest areas are communication, managing change and igniting effective leadership and workplace behaviours using tools that support relationship and productivity success.

Lisa has worked in partnership with Mt Eliza Executive Education since 1997 as a presenter and Associate Program Director. She has effectively orchestrated many long term programs developing and maintaining co-operative relationships with L&D or HR staff to resolve barriers to learner success.

Facilitation clients in recent years include Defence Materiel Organisation, Gazal, One Steel, Mirvac, Linfox, Oil Search, Murrumbidgee CMA, Caltex, ENERGEX, Astra Zeneca, GP NSW, Global Experience, Vision Australia, Uniting Church of Australia, Southern Cross University, University of Western Sydney (project in Chile), Pertamina (Indonesia), Transurban, Origin Energy, Choice Home Loans Blue Mountains and Crestwood High School. Lisa has a passion for and understands operations management having previously worked for Qantas at Sydney Airport as an Aircraft Despatcher, in various leadership roles and as a developer and presenter of training programs.

Lisa's coaching clients include business owners and leaders of organisations such as Choice Home Loans Blue Mountains, Nepean Regional Security, Vision Australia, Connect Child & Family Services, Southern Cross University and other Blue Mountains' residents and start up businesses.

A student of the University of Western Sydney since 2013, Lisa is currently researching Success Factors in Cross-Cultural Knowledge Transfer (between Australian Educators and Indonesian students) for the Masters of Education (Leadership) program.

Lisa has been a key note speaker for a variety of groups and clubs including the Hunter Business Women's Network, Dubbo Business Women's Network, Rotary, Women with Altitude and the Zonta Club in the Blue Mountains. Lisa has also presented to young people at the Rotary Youth Leadership Award and is a skilled MC and Toastmaster.

Lisa is the author of 'I Believe in Me: 7 Ways for Women to Step Ahead in Confidence' which was inspired by the long term personal success of participants of the Step Ahead Program – a course she facilitated continuously for 12 years with Australia Post. Confident Chick Chat is Lisa's confidence building blog for women that draws on some of the inspirational stories, tips, tools and techniques from her book.

Lisa enjoys new experiences, road-trips, overseas travel, writing poetry, walking down the track, around the lake or in the bush, spending time with family, and catching up with friends over a glass of raw juice.
